

Every decibel of coding gain is a decibel of data rate across the solar system

