

Backward adaptation: the step follows the loudness, with no side information

